The angler tackled the manager of the country hotel angrily.

"What do you mean by luring visitors here with the promise of fine fishing?" he said. "There isn't a bit of fishing here. Every Brook has a sign warning people off."

SENATE RETURNS TREATY TO WILSON

TREATY TO BE BURIED IN ARCHIVES. MEMBER OF HOUSE OFFERS PEACE RESOLUTION.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—The treaty of Versailles was returned to President Wilson today by the senate after it had failed of ratification on last night for the fourth time. There was no intimation as to what the president would do with the treaty. White house officials said the usual procedure would be to send it to the state department for "burial" in the archives there.

The senate was not in session today, but when the house met, Representative Tinkham, republican of Massachusetts, offered a resolution declaring a state of peace between the United States and Germany.

Under the resolution, Germany would recognize all rights which the United States might have had under the Versailles treaty. Should Germany fail to agree to this, the president would be authorized to prohibit a resumption of trade relations, or the extension of loans or credits.

DOG BREAKS LIMB; DOCTOR BREAKS LAW

CHICAGO, Ill., March 20.—In the opinion of Justice of the Peace John F. Boyer of Evanston, Ill., a dog's broken leg is not sufficient ground for the veterinary surgeon to attend the injured member to ignore traffic laws.

Dr. J. V. Lacroix, a veterinary surgeon was arraigned before Justice Boyer because he did not stop his automobile at an intersection.

"I was hurrying to set a dog's leg," the doctor said. "I forgot the regulations I guess it was an emergency call."

"Lap dogs may be important in their place, but they are not worth risking the lives of citizens," said Justice Boyer as he fined Dr. Lacroix $5 and costs.

Strike Is Off

By the Associated Press
LONDON, March 20.—The general strike in Germany has been called off, according to Berlin advice received here this afternoon. The government has accepted the workers' demands including far reaching concessions to the independent socialists, which will be made public shortly.

Where Do We Go From Here?

We are still at War with Germany. After an armistice lasting now for seventeen months and a senatorial debate of 253 days we are exactly where we were when the cannon grew cold in November of 1918. By killing the treaty with Germany the honorable senate has voted to continue the war with Germany. Of all the nations allied against the Hun the United States alone is still in a state of war.

The next step is problematical. No one knows where we are. No one can tell what step to take in order to extricate ourselves from a shameful situation. It is useless to lament lost opportunities or denounce the betrayer of innocent blood. We must face the unpleasant truth that we are still at war, that we have 15,000 American troops in Germany, that Germany could attack these boys without violating any agreement, and that in the event of such attack, no nation on God's earth is under the slightest obligation to lend assistance to our armies.

It is easy to see at this late hour how the treaty could have been ratified. But for the presence of two impediments the senate would have reached an accommodation. One was the play of Republican politicians for the German vote. The other was the play of Democratic politicians for the Irish vote. In the presence of such political bartering honor was dead and peace impossible. Added to this gamble for votes was the uncompromising attitude of the president, whose way, in his own mind, was the only way.

It is useless to undertake a separate peace with Germany. In no case could Germany be any worse off than she now is. This she fully realizes and she would laugh to scorn any overture from America. By grace of our senatorial apostates Germany is in position to give this nation the horse laugh and we are helpless to resent it.

Of all the principles our country fought for and our soldiers died for nothing remains today. We have a national debt of appalling magnitude. We have the graves of our dead. This is all that has been left us by dirty rabble who play the game of politics with the honor and life-blood of a nation. Of every Judas who made a nation's honor the politician's pawn it may be said in the words of him who sleeps beside the Avon: "God made him—let him pass for a man."

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., March 20.—Senator Theodore H. BOLSHEVISM WILL LAST WOMAN SAYS

POLISH LECTURER SAYS CULT OF TROTSKY WILL FINALLY WIN IN RUSSIA.

By News' Special Service
ST. LOUIS, March 20.—Miss Marie Czaplicka, lecturer of Oxford university, author of many books on explorations and economics, and secretary of the Constitutional Committee of Oxford, doing research work for the league of nations, arrived in St. Louis this morning and will speak tonight before the Constitutional club at Hotel Statler. She designates herself as "a citizen of Poland, but a resident of the world," for she has traveled almost continuously for 10 years.

America's failure to enter the league of nations, she said, is greatly deplored in Europe and the hope still exists there that this country may still become a member of the league. "America having no territorial aspirations," said she, "it is greatly desired in Europe, particularly among the smaller nations, that she enter the league in order to act as a check upon the greedy nations—and none of us delude ourselves with the belief that greed will of a sudden be banished from the hearts of those nations whose policy has always been of that type."

Poland, she said is the only nation which has successfully fought bolshevism and replaced it with a government solid and enduring. The reason for this success, she says, lies in the fact that the people of Poland were perfectly organized before they set up an independent state, and had been drilled and educated for years in the principles of government by the people. She considers Warsaw the most cultured city in the world today. Miss Czaplicka said Ignace Paderewski's influence in outside countries enabled Poland to become at once a strong independent nation.

Polish Army Strong.

The influence of Paderewski within the confines of Poland itself was not nearly so great as in Paris and other European centers, she says, but the noted pianist-statesman was able to carry out his policies by working with Josef Pilsudski, president of Poland. It was due to the efforts of the latter, she says, that the Polish army developed into a great fighting machine. There is much fighting in the states surrounding Poland, but Miss Czaplicka believes that practically all of the adjoining territory will ultimately and voluntarily be annexed to Poland.

Herbert Hoover, she said, is regarded as a real symbol of Americanism by the nations of Europe. "It is my belief," she said, "based upon observations in nearly all of the nations of Europe, that if Hoover were to be elected president of the United States this country would immediately assume the real leadership among nations. You over here can have no conception of the high regard in which Mr. Hoover is held by the people of Europe. They regard him as little less than their savior, so wonderful was his work during the war."

Wilson Loses Popularity.

The belief exists in many European countries, she says, that President Wilson yielded too much to Clemenceau and Lloyd-George and because of this the popularity of Wilson has waned across the seas.

Miss Czaplicka defines the difference between bolshevism and socialism as saying, "bolshevism means a government by the proletariat, socialism means government by all classes. Russia is the only nation in which a bolshevist government could succeed and there it will ultimately succeed. Just now bolshevism there is directed by too many dishonest, insincere men, but as honest men and women join the movement it will grow strong and enduring."

She believes America is facing "a great crisis" and explains this must be by saying that the crisis is not so much an economic or political one as that of nationalism. America has now the chance to become great nationally, instead of a melting pot," she declared. "The war has brought about great changes here. It has done a great deal to unite you people; it has brought about a higher degree of culture than ever before and has molded your people so that at last America will even have a literature of its own. In the past great writers have sought England and other nations of Europe as the scene for their works; now they are beginning to understand that here in America is the most fertile field of all and as a result of that understanding a great change is already apparent in your literature."

"L. of J." Announcement

The "L. of J." meets every Monday at 4:30. On the first Monday of each month they go on a hike. The leader wishes to announce that only those who attend the meetings at the church on Mondays will be permitted to go on the hikes, unless the boys work as some of them do, and can not come to the meetings at the church. In these meetings an effort is being made to inculcate courtesy, proper deportment and a knowledge of the Bible. Wholesome stories are read or told to the boys, and Bible drills are given. The admission fee is only fifty cents, and each boy pays five cents a month after that for fees. The meetings on Monday last only one hour. Any boy from eight to fourteen may become a member by agreeing to abide by the constitution.

DAIRY BUSINESS BOOMS IN KANSAS

TOPEKA, Kas., March 20.—Dairy products of Kansas have increased 100 per cent in the last twenty years and have doubled in the last five years, says a report issued today by Secretary J. C. Mohler of the state board of agriculture.

But with all this progress in dairying, the report calls attention to the fact that Kansas is not taking full advantage of the possibilities offered by the dairying industry. It shows that in 1919 creameries in three adjoining states manufactured from Kansas butter fat half as much butter as all the creameries in Kansas made.

Secretary Mohler's report states. "Twenty-one creameries from outside Kansas reported that they bought cream from the Sunflower state for manufacture into butter. These twenty-one factories made 17,512,500 pounds of butter last year from cream shipped from Kansas. This quantity is practically half as much butter as was produced by the factories of our own state during the same period. Naturally the state of Kansas cannot take credit for butter made in other state, but these facts suggest that the dairy industry of Kansas is of even more consequence than the official records might indicate. It is also interesting to note that the twenty-one outside factories reporting are evenly divided between the three states of Colorado, Nebraska and Missouri or seven to each.

"According to the records of the state board of Agriculture, in the twenty years ending with 1919, the value of Kansas' dairy products has quintupled.

AMERICA LEADS IN WARSHIP BUILDING

By News' Special Service
WASHINGTON, March 20.—The United States, American naval experts say, is building more warship tonnage than any other Nation.

Twelve superdreadnaughts and six great battle cruisers, aggregating 665,400 tons, are under construction in private and navy yards. They will carry a total of 152 sixteen-inch rifles and twenty-four fourteen-inch rifles and all will have the new electric drive engines.

With the completion of this fleet probably in 1923, the United States will have a battle force of nine battle cruisers in the first line and eight dreadnaughts and a number of smaller battleships in the second line.

American naval men say that among the world fighting craft the six battle cruisers and six of the new battleships—the South Dakota, Montana, North Carolina, Massachusetts, Indiana and Iowa—will be in a class by themselves. The cruisers will have a speed of about thirty-three knots—thirty-seven land miles—and each will carry eight sixteen-inch guns. They will be 874 feet long overall, ninety feet wide; will displace 33,500 tons and have 180,000 horsepower.

These ships and the battle cruisers are just now being gotten under way, but most of the other battleships are well on the road to completion.

The six superdreadnaughts will be even more powerful, each mounting in its main battery twelve sixteen-inch rifles. They will be 684 feet long, 105 feet broad and displace 43,000 tons. Their speed will be twenty-three knots and horsepower 60,000.

Says She Is More Grateful To Tanlac Than Words Can Express for It Has Brought Her Health and Happiness.

"I am more grateful to Tanlac than words can express for it has given me health and happiness after 12 long years of suffering," was the statement made the other day by Mrs. Olivine Pelletier, No. 26 East Allen street, Winoski, Vermont.

"I had been troubled so long with nervousness and sleeplessness that my house work was a drudgery and I got little pleasure out of life. My appetite left me entirely and at times I could hardly bear the sight of food and what little I did eat caused me severe suffering afterward. Gas would form on my stomach so badly that it affected my heart and I thought I had heart trouble."

"I was so nervous I would jump at the least unexpected noise and would drop everything I had in my hands I got so weak and faint at times that I would have to catch hold of something to keep from falling over. My sleep was broken and restless and I was losing weight rapidly. I had little strength or energy and, as I had tried all kinds of medicines without relief, I had become very much discouraged over my condition."

"My husband had been taking Tanlac and when I saw what wonderful results he was getting I decided to try it myself and now I think as much of Tanlac as he does."

First Baptist Church.
The pastor is delighted to hear of the splendid service last Sunday. Brother Halsfield came back singing your praises. Let's make next Sunday equally as good a day. Sunday School will meet at 9:45.

The Sunbeams will meet at 3 p. m.
The Juniors will both meet at 4:30 p. m.

The Senior B. Y. P. U. will meet at 5:30.
At the morning hour Rev. C. P. Stealy, editor of the Baptist Messenger, our state paper, will preach. He will also speak at 7:30 o'clock. Brother Stealy is a splendid worker and will bring you worth while messages. Let all our people hear him.

The meeting here is going fine. We have had more than 70 conversions and about 50 additions to the church. The pastor will be home next Tuesday. I am getting exceedingly homesick. I do not believe I could stand it another week. Cordial greetings to all.

CLYDE CALHOUN MORRIS, Pastor.

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Presbyterian Church met in a social meeting at the home of Mrs. Moser, Monday afternoon March 14, with Mesdames Moser, Roberts, Stauffer and Zorn as hostesses. The house was decorated in keeping with Saint Patrick's day. Each guest was given a clothes pin, paper and pins and told to dress a doll very artistically after which Mrs. Stauffer favored those present with an ex-

A NERVOUS WRECK
From Three Years' Suffering Says Cardui Made Her Well.

Texas City, Tex.—In an interesting statement, Mrs. G. H. Schill, of this town, says: "For three years I suffered untold agony with my head. I was unable to do any of my work."

I just wanted to sleep all the time, for that was the only ease I could get, when I was asleep. I became a nervous wreck just from the awful suffering with my head.

I was so nervous that the least noise would make me jump out of my bed. I had no energy, and was unable to do anything. My son, a young boy, had to do all my household duties.

I was not able to do anything until I took Cardui. I took three bottles in all, and it surely cured me of those awful headaches. That has been three years ago, and I know the cure is permanent for I have never had any headache since taking Cardui.

Nothing relieved me until I took Cardui. It did wonders for me.

Try Cardui for your troubles—made from medicinal ingredients recommended in medical books as being of benefit in female troubles, and 40 years of use has proven that the books are right. Begin taking Cardui today.

WHEN CIPHERS LEGISLATE

Just twelve months ago an effort was being put forth by the Oklahoma legislature to do something on a limited scale for the soldiers then being demobilized. Attention was called to the fact that legislation to help the soldiers had already been enacted by England, Canada, Tasmania, New Zealand, and Australia, while absolutely nothing had been done by the United States or any one of the states. The legislature finally decided that the Federal government was the proper power to enact legislation for the benefit of the soldiers, that the Federal government alone had sufficient wealth to enact adequate legislation, and that undoubtedly the Federal government would without delay enact such legislation.

But thus far the Federal government has done nothing. Moreover, it shows absolutely no desire to do anything. If it has any intention of doing anything, it manages to conceal that intention with complete success. Although many other nations, cut to pieces financially, have done much for their soldiers, the United States, wealthiest of all nations and least injured by the war, has done nothing. Congress has been in session all the time, but it has permitted a year and a half to pass without making the first move to enact any remedial legislation for those who bore our battles.

While the people are of many opinions as to what should be done, they are of one mind that something should be done. They have expected congress to take some affirmative action. They have believed that congress would select its course and pursue that course. But congress had chosen to do nothing. It is continuing to do nothing. It promises to continue doing nothing to the close of the chapter.

In refusing to send troops or a special posse to the Red River sand bars, Governor Robertson is doing exactly right. The best way in the world to start trouble is to expect it and to go out looking for it. If the governor should send armed men to the river bed, it would be a standing challenge for Texas to reinforce her rangers and send her national guards up there. The next thing would be a senseless fight and considerable bloodshed. If Oklahoma has any right to those river lands, the courts will decide the matter and enforce her rights. If she has no rights to the property in question, she has no call to send armed men down there to fight for a spurious title. The governor is right and is entitled to the commendation of all sensible people.

Because about fifteen per cent of the teachers in the state normal schools are going to resign the Shawnee News declares that the time is auspicious to get rid of a lot of the normals. There may be something in that. It is possible that a speedy cure for the nationwide shortage of teachers would be to close all the schools in which teachers are trained. And while we are reforming the world we could reduce the cost of living by closing all the grade schools in the country and putting the children to work in fields and factories. And if you think that a nation can't get along without schools just take a peep at Mexico and China. They have neither schools nor teachers.

Bryan County has just voted road bonds to the limit in order to build permanent roads throughout the county. Choctaw County did the same thing a week earlier. These two counties lie along the edge of the good road belt of northern Texas and are acquainted with the benefits of permanent highways. Bryan and Choctaw are two of the best counties in Oklahoma, and are due to wonderful development following the completion of their hard surface roads. They are among the few counties that voted for the state road bonds last May, and their present programs prove that they are determined to have the best highways possible.

Now it is asserted that Woodrow is to blame for the anarchy prevailing in Mexico. We haven't the least doubt in the world of it. We are convinced beyond any argument that Woodrow led the rioters in the days of the viceroys. He led the charge against Fannin at Goliad and with his own hands cut down Davy Crockett at the Alamo. He inaugurated a reign of terror in Tenochtitlan fifty years before he was born, which is something Woodrow alone could do. In fact there can be no doubt that Santa Anna was Woodrow Wilson in disguise. We have known all along that Woodrow caused all the trouble below the border. It's not news to us.

Present indications are that Joe Bailey will carry every county in Oklahoma south of the Rock Island.

Broken Wire Plays Havoc With Paper Friday Afternoon

A broken down telephone and a broken wire in the telegraph office came near putting the Evening News on the blink yesterday afternoon. Also the inability of the telegraph editor of the News to read the Russian language made more trouble for the News force than Solomon had wives.

The first trouble occurred when the telephone over which the News gets its Associated Press dispatches went into a trance and refused to put the talk over in the proper manner. This ill was remedied by switching on to the telegraph, which answered the purpose and things went well for a time. But the second trouble developed when the ticker quit ticking; and the telegrapher discovered that about a yard of the wire had literally rotted out.

A hurry-up visit to all the wire shops in the city failed to find the right kind of wire to supply the break. The only thing that would half-way answer the emergency was a length of half-oxidized barb wire, which was confiscated and spliced into the broken telegraph. When the batteries began to click again the telegraph editor was as happy as a June bride.

But the editor at once said threw three dozen conniption fits and several wall-eyed ones when he got a glimpse of the recorded dispatches. It was discovered that the bristling barbs of wire on the short piece of splicing had cut all the English out of the dispatches and translated them into the worst kind of pigeon Russian.

What was to be done? The linotypes were waiting, the paper was already late, the telephone was dead, and the telegraph was acting like a bolshevik at an Eastside election. A possible remedy was found when the local police suggested that a blast frir at the Lawrence quarries is a Russian anarchist and might possibly be able to translate the dispatches.

The blast frir was reached after one of the wildest jitney rides ever taken by the much experienced telegraph editor. He is a Russian for a fact and glories in the mellifluous pseudonym of Petrosky Blominscoff. Being handsomely bribed with a can of sardines and a chew of tobacco, he condescended to translate the dispatches from barbaric Russian into newspaper English, thereby saving the Evening News from extinction and the telegraph editor from suicide. But it is doubtful if any other newspaper on earth ever had such an experience.

A LITTLE STORY OF REAL LIFE

"I do say, John, I don't know what we are going to do with all those pure bred hens we have. Our lot is not large enough to keep them all, but they are too valuable to kill now."

"You know, Sally, that has been bothering me for several days. Those hens are the best layers I have ever seen. That one with the missing toe has missed laying only three days since last Thanksgiving. She has paid for herself already. A hen like that is too valuable to eat, when we can buy non-laying hens for around $1.50."

"I've just thought of something. You know we have been hearing it said for a long time that it pays to advertise. Let's put a little want ad in the Ada Evening News and watch for results."

The following day their little advertisement appeared. It was small and inconspicuous. These two were a bit afraid of the printed word. They had never tried it before. They watched for the paper to see their first venture in modern business methods. Finally the paper was thrown at the door and the wife scanned the want ad page. It took her some time to find the three line ad down in the For Sale column. She wondered if any other person would see it.

She was aroused at this time by the ringing of the telephone. "Why listen, Mrs. Blank, I just saw your ad in the paper. What do you want for those hens?"

"I think they are worth $3.50 each. They are good layers."

"Fine. Can you send them over? This is Mrs. Bankhead talking. I live at 510 West Wilson street. I'll have the money ready."

"All right. Thank you. They will be over in a couple of hours."

"I've learned a new way of doing things quickly," Mrs. Blank told her husband at supper that evening.

Old Fashioned Flowers. Old-fashioned annuals, ancient favorites in our grandmothers' garden, are having their day after a period of retirement before the furor for perennials. The marigold, the snap-dragon, the lupin, and others now find luxurious homes not only in the garden, but on the greenhouse benches. Snap-dragons and pot marigolds adorn the florists' window the year round where a few years ago they found little place.

They bloom, that is the secret. Neglect doesn't stop them. The better they are cared the larger and more lavish their display, but they will always bloom. Graduated from the little patch of posies wherever grandmother found a patch for them, they now hobnob with the tea roses and other floral aristocrats.

A garden of bloom in two months time with annuals is always an easy task. It is only a matter of selection. Think of the royal asters we now have, rivals of the chrysanthemums in size of bloom and stateliness of growth. Now is the time to get ready for a sheet of color outdoors and full vases in the house. Get ready for castor beans the size of a small tree if you like this stately exotic. Five cents will bring the makings of a stately screen of the Zanzibar castor bean with its great umbrella leaves.

A low hedge of four o'clocks along the walk or driveway to brighten the dusk with their sheets of bloom can be started in a kitchen window. They can be started out doors, but why lose a month or so if there is a place for them.

Gorgeous golden African marigolds with their velvety brown, crimson and mahogany French cousins make the garden gorgeous for the later months. They can be started early and brought into bloom earlier. It is only a question of selecting a favorite to take advantage of the season. Mourning Brides, larger and finer than our grandmothers ever knew, give a wealth of long stemmed flowers for cutting and bloom until frost cuts them down and they stand a lot of cold.

Huge zinnias, rivals of the dahlias and not half the trouble, will furnish sheaves of bloom. The florist has achieved a triumph in the new colossal varieties in size, form and color. And they bloom and bloom.

Salvias, the old-fashioned scarlet sage, growing tall or growing short, as may be desired, with long stems or with short stems, the most brilliant annual, needs shelter from the cold when it starts.

Golden daisies, rivals of anything the florist turns out, can be had in the annual chrysanthemums.

Double Balsams growing into miniature trees of bloom when transplanted and pinched back are popular gain. They are now appearing as pot plants for summer table decorations. Pinks in myriad shades grow as easily as weeds. And, are having their day after a period of retirement before the furor for perennials. The hardy annual offers the quickest return of any garden material. The one fault usually found and which should be guarded against in planting them too quickly and losing half their development. Four o'clock, for instance, need two feet between them and they will meet. African marigolds make big bushes if given the room. So do the zinnias. Some of the smaller growing annuals need more room than they are usually given. Mignonette needs a six-inch radius to develop its pertume, but it seldom gets it.

PRISON COMMANDANT IS NOW A PRISONER

He registered as "Tom Brown" and announced that he would remain in confinement until he relinquishes command next Tuesday, as a final test of his welfare system.

Before he assumed command of the prison three years ago, he served a voluntary sentence, cutting ice and coaling ships with prisoners. He also submitted to the prison haircut.

Edgar Hutchinson Announces Candidacy

He says that if he is nominated he will give a square deal to all. More than this he believes it unnecessary as a square deal is all that any honest man wants.

Police Court in The Year 1931

Willie Jones, aged 14, an incorrigible, was brought in by an officer charged with chewing gum, against the peace and dignity of the commonwealth and in violation of the law against gum chewing which was passed in 1925. He was turned over to the juvenile court for trial.

Ell Hanys was arrested Monday for having played his Victrola on Sunday, the same being against the new reform laws prohibiting music of all kinds on the first day of the week.

Jake Bender was brought in for whistling on the same day. Both were held for trial under heavy bonds. The present wave of crime must cease.

Mr. and Mrs. August T. Priddy were arrested for dancing in their own home last Saturday night. They neglected to pull down the curtains and were caught in their flagrant violation of the law. The case is particularly vicious in the fact that they allow their children to be present and were actually teaching them to dance. Both are in jail awaiting trial.

A report that lemonade had been served at a swell society function last Thursday caused a stir in police circles. The party was raided but no condemning lemon peel or glasses were found. None of the guests would swear that lemonade had been served. It is difficult to prosecute cases of this kind.

A man giving the name of Lou Gubrious, which is doubtless an alias, was arrested night before last for laughing on the street. He claimed he didn't know it was a crime to be happy, but the court holds that ignorance of the law is no excuse. He was given thirty days in jail with the promise of a much heavier sentence if he ever repeated the offense.

Perceval Jones, one of the city's well known young men, was apprehended by the police last night while standing bargehanded on one of the main streets. He is being held without bond, and conviction to from ten to thirty years is almost certain.—Waterloo Times.

SOMETHING UNIQUE FOR SWIMMING DAYS

By Eloise.

It is a bit early to think of swimming days, but some of the exclusive shops are already displaying bathing suits for the coming season. It seemed last season as if the limit had been reached in novel designs and that there could be nothing new developed at least in the line of startling bathing suits. Many of the suits had become such very simple, abbreviated, one-piece affairs that it was impossible to imagine anything more daring and others had been made so ornate that anything fancier would not have been suitable for the water.

Here is something new, however, and it is neither too daring nor too ornate. It is really quite a practical outfit and is particularly smart and novel enough to suit even a fantastic taste. Cherry red and gray are the colors. The lights or little trunks which are perhaps more like snug bloomers than anything else are made of the cherry color jersey with little triangles of gray jersey set in at the sides. Instead of the regular ordinary straight skirt the overdress which is made of the gray embroidered in cherry falls in points at the front and back with exaggerated shortness on either side. The suit buttons on the shoulder and is sleeveless. A cherry and gray rubber hat to match and little satin bathing shoes complete the costume and make it ready to wear at the summer beaches—or it might be worn down at Palm Beach now.

DADDY'S EVENING FAIRY TALE

OF MARY GRAHAM BONNER

THE REDPOLL FAMILY.

"Ah," said Mrs. Redpoll, "how glad I am I have a mate who is distinguished looking."

"Distinguished Looking."

"Of course it is when I say I'm glad you look that way," said Mrs. Redpoll. "I wouldn't want you to look anything but distinguished looking!" asked Mr. Redpoll.

"It is nice for you to dress so simply," said Mr. Redpoll, "and it is fitting that we should have made the family name, for the Mr. Redpolls should do that and they should see that it is always kept up and that we always live up to it by wearing rose-colored waistcoats."

"I'm sure you always will," said Mrs. Redpoll. "And when I say you look so very fine and handsome, and smart and stylish."

"There are our cousins, the Holboell Redpolls, and though they are somewhat larger, they aren't distinguished looking. There are our cousins, the Greater Redpolls, larger and darker in color, but they aren't so beautiful, for we like to wear lighter, gayier things, and to look as happy and cheery as we feel."

"Then there are our cousins, the Greenland Redpolls, and they are larger and wear more white feathers. They live far, far north and I suppose they like to have a snowy-looking costume to match their suits. There are still more cousins of ours, the Hoary Redpolls, and they are smaller and darker than the other Greenland Redpolls, but lighter than us in the color of their costume."

"Now, we strike a happy, gay between. We don't come out all in white, or all in dark feathers. We're well feathered birds; there is no mistake about it. And a well-feathered bird means the same in our language as when they say, in the children's world, that a child is well-dressed, or attractively dressed."

"We like to build our nests low and we have the loveliest of little pale green eggs with brownish specks. Sometimes there are three eggs, sometimes four, and sometimes five. There is great excitement when there are five eggs."

"Ah," said Mr. Redpoll, "it is good to be so pleased with life and with your mate, and to think that I am handsome, I will sing you a song, and then we will gather seeds and have a little meal."

"Later on we will fly quickly far up North, where we live, but for the time being we are to be in a slightly warmer climate."

"Yes, I will sing for you one of my best and nicest songs, and will you accompany me?"

"I will do so gladly," said Mrs. Redpoll.

So she hummed and chirped softly and gently while Mr. Redpoll sang trills and glorious notes and beautiful words known by the birds. His song sounds something like a canary's, but Mrs. Redpoll thinks it is unlike anything in the world, and it is quite by itself in glory and in perfection.

"It's not every bird who has a mate who wears a rose-colored waistcoat," said Mrs. Redpoll, "and who has a beautiful voice, a voice sweeter than any other bird's."

"It's not every bird who feels like looking and doing his best," said Mr. Redpoll, "for every creature doesn't feel happy enough. And some creatures make such a mistake in thinking they can never give a word of praise. Why, a little praise makes one feel so fine, so fine," said Mr. Redpoll, "that he wants to make sure it is deserved, and so he lives up to it. Yes, I'm a great believer in a little praise, quite a little of it, too!"

PRESBYTERIAN IN DURHAM CATHEDRAL

LONDON, March 20.—Despite strenuous opposition by several prominent Episcopal church leaders, the Rev. John Henry Jowett, D. D., who formerly was minister of the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church, New York, has delivered a sermon in Durham Cathedral to a crowded congregation of 7,000 people.

Dr. Jowett preached by invitation of Bishop Welldon, the Anglican Dean of Durham, who believes that intercommunion between the reformed churches will promote a greater diffusion of Christian influence in the world as the war has left it.

Lord Phillimore, president of the English Church Union, has raised a protest against this innovation, as being contrary to the National Church Assembly Act and an Anglican vicar protested in the cathedral itself when Dr. Jowett ascended the pulpit. The interrupter was forcibly ejected.

Bishop Welldon said afterward: "I have long felt that the Church of England must come into some sort of formal association with the Non-conformist churches. I think all the churches are losing ground because they do not speak with one voice. In fact, they have expended a good deal of energy in opposing one another and the world at large does not listen to them for that reason."

ST. LOUIS BAD PLACE FOR SUNDAY SCHOOLS

ST. LOUIS, Mo., March 20.—Only about one child in every seventy in St. Louis attends Sunday School regularly, according to a survey made by 21 Protestant denominations in the Interchurch World Movement.

Apartment dwellers have less interest in church affairs, fewer children and more servants than any other class, the canvassers reported. Some apartment dwellers, the canvassers asserted, have more servants than children, despite the alleged scarcity of domestics.

The canvassers said many persons told them they had attended church regularly in their childhood and that they considered this sufficient.

AERIAL MAIL WILL COVER THE COUNTY

CHICAGO, March 20.—Aerial mail pilots, flying De Havilland four planes, travel the distance between New York and Chicago between dawn and sunset. Special delivery matter is delivered on the day it is sent from Chicago, according to postal officials.

Any one may send letters by aerial mail by simply endorsing them "via airplane." No postage other than the two cent stamp is needed. Packages, however, must bear postage at the rate of two cents per ounce and may not exceed 30 inches in length and girth combined.

About 11 hours is required for the trip to New York city. The mail leaves the Chicago field at 6 a. m. central time, according to schedule, and arrives at the Long Island field at 5 p. m. eastern time. Nearly another hour is required to convey it to the New York city postoffice. The first plane goes only to Cleveland. The mail is transferred to another plane which takes it to New York, making a stop at Bellonte, Penn.

Thus a special delivery letter mailed at the Checkerboard field, Chicago, before 5:45 in the morning is delivered in New York in the evening. If the sender is unable to reach the field he must mail it at the postoffice at midnight to make the 6 o'clock plane.

The best rail time between Chicago and New York, at present, is almost 21 hours, postal men say. A letter mailed at the post office at noon reaches New York at 9:45 the next morning.

Occasionally very bad weather delays the plane or makes it impossible to make the flight. Only an average of one flight per month has been called off on the Chicago to Cleveland leg of the journey since last May, according to A. R. Dunphy, who has charge of the Chicago field.

"The mail pilots are not fair weather flyers," says Mr. Dunphy, discussing the death of Clinton Storer, who took off from the Chicago mail field in a fog on the morning of March 10 and was burned when his plane crashed near Goshen, Ind.

Five young persons of Wilson and Lon Grove, Ok., were killed and one badly injured last week when the automobile, in which they were returning from a dance was struck by a freight train.

STOMACH TROUBLE AND CONSTIPATION ENDED

Suffered So He Couldn't Work for a Year, but Mr. McCormick Was Cured Promptly.

"I had stomach trouble and constipation for five years. One year of this time I was unable to work, suffering untold agony. I doctored with some of the best physicians, also took many proprietary medicines, but could not find permanent relief. Finally a friend recommended Milks Emulsion. The first few doses relieved me greatly, and three bottles of it effected a permanent cure."

Mr. McCormick is only one of many hundreds who have endured torture for years and then found that Milks Emulsion gives blessed relief and real, lasting benefit. It costs nothing to try.

Milks Emulsion is a pleasant, nutritive food and a corrective medicine. It restores healthy, natural bowel action, doing away with all need of pills and physic. It prompts appetite and quickly puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food. As a builder of flesh and strength, Milks Emulsion is strongly recommended to those whom sickness has weakened, and is a powerful aid in resisting and repairing the effects of wasting diseases. Chronic stomach trouble and constipation are promptly relieved—usually in one day.

This is the only solid emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream. Truly wonderful for weak, sickly children.

No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try Milks Emulsion under this guarantee—Take six bottles home with you, use it according to directions and if not satisfied with the results, your money will be promptly refunded. Price 90c and $1.20 per bottle. The Milks Emulsion Co., Terre Haute, Ind. Sold by druggists everywhere.

FLOUR SACK COMES HOME FROM BELGIUM

By the Associated Press

CHICAGO, March 20.—Chief of Police John J. Garrity of this city received a package from Brussels, Belgium, and upon opening it he found that it contained a hand embroidered flour sack from Miss Hanssens, Rue Canusel 38, Brussels. The inscription embroidered on the sack read: "American Consulate: Chicago's flour gift to the non-combatants of Belgium. Funds secured through the Board of Trade War Relief Fund." And in one corner, "From a thankful Belgian girl."

In the letter which was inclosed Miss Hanssens thanked the chief for the contents of the sack which she received and said that these sacks saved many lives in Belgium. The sack was fringed with hand made lace.

INSIST ON GENUINE FORD PARTS

Imitation "Ford" parts are being sold by many mail-order houses, down-town stores and garages to unsuspecting Ford owners as "Ford" parts. But they are not Genuine Ford parts made by the Ford Motor Company. They are made by concerns who have no connection whatsoever with the Ford Motor Company. These imitation parts are not even made from the same grade of steel, or under the same formulas used by the Ford Company. They are counterfeit parts. Tests have shown them to break when the genuine Ford parts didn't even bend, and they generally are from thirty-five to one hundred per cent lower in quality.

The Authorized Ford Dealer is your protection. As such, we handle nothing but the Genuine Ford parts. They are made from the famous Ford Vanadium Steel and each part—according to its use—is heat-treated in the way that will give it the longest wearing qualities. Every part is the same as its duplicate in your Ford car or Ford truck.

Our stock of parts is complete. And our Ford garage and Ford mechanics are at your service at all times. Drive in when replacements or repairs for your Ford car may be necessary. Save your car and also your money.

WINTER HAS CAUSED GREAT SUFFERING

NANTUCKET, Mass., March 20. Short of fuel and having waged a grim battle with sickness and death from influenza while isolated by 30 miles of impassable ice, the people of Nantucket are emerging from what they call the hardest winter they ever experienced. They are used to isolation by ice but this year the shortage of fuel coupled with the influenza caused hardships and suffering. A fleet of schooners chartered to bring to the island its winter supplies was storm bound in Long Island sound port in December and by the middle of February the coal in the hands of dealers on the island was exhausted. Thereafter coal was loaned by the harbor from one family to another and supplies of it in summer cottages were taken by permission of the owners. Thus the people kept from freezing until, early in March, a coast guard cutter broke passage through the ice and towed a coal-laden schooner to Nantucket. The fishing fleet was frozen in the harbor for two months beginning at Christmas.

HELIUM PLANT NOW NEARS COMPLETION

FORT WORTH, Texas, March 20. A great helium plant from which the United States government hopes to obtain non-inflammable gas in sufficient quantities to supply its military balloons is near completion here. Installation of machinery has begun and it is expected the plant will be in operation by August 1, unless congress should fail to further support the undertaking. Helium is extracted from natural gas by a secret process.

Construction of the plant, the only one of its kind in the world and at a cost of approximately $5,000,000, was started during the world war following a series of experiments conducted by army and navy experts here and at Petrolia, Texas. Beyond the fact that a non-inflammable, non-explosive, gas had been developed, the results of the experiments have remained a secret. The helium plant, since its construction started, has been under military guard. A naval lieutenant is in command.

An Extensive Traveling Zoo.

The Honest Bill Shows, which is billed for 4 performances here, Friday and Saturday, March 26 and 27 carries a rare and unique collection of wild animals. Among the vast numbers being many never seen with an overland show. Ponderous elephants, lumbering single and double hump camels, those ships of the desert, that rendered such efficient transportation aids to the allied armies. The fast becoming extinct American Bison; beautiful Zebras, fleet footed ostriches, man-eating lions, South American grange robbers. To say nothing of the large number of ordinary animals carried by the average show.

Sizing It Up

"What's the matter with America these days?" Too many diamonds, not enough alarm clocks. Too many silk shirts, not enough blue flannel ones. Too many pointed-toe shoes and not enough square-toe ones. Too many serge suits and not enough overalls. Too much decollete and not enough aprons. Too many consumers and not enough producers. Too much envy of the results of hard work and too little desire to emulate it. Too many desiring short cuts to wealth and too few willing to pay the price.—Roy K. Moulton in the New York Evening Mail.

MAN FOLLOWS WIFE AROUND THE WORLD

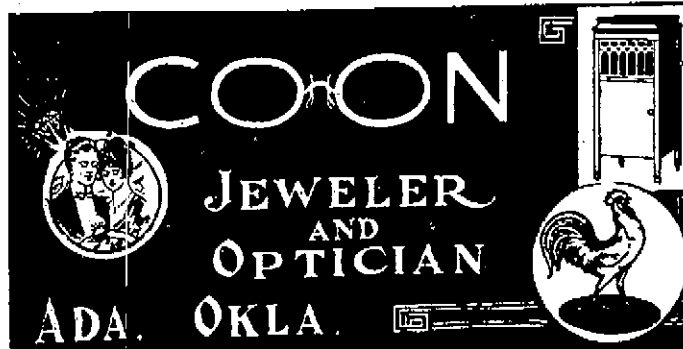

EDWARDSVILLE, Ill., March 20. Having traveled the distance of the earth's circumference twice in a vain effort to persuade his wife to live with him, George Pastor has filed suit for divorce, alleging desertion.

He asserts he left Hungary shortly after his marriage 25 years ago and came to America. After obtaining employment he wrote his wife to come here, but she refused. Since then, he says, he has made five round trips to Hungary, involving approximately 50,000 miles of travel, in fruitless attempts to get her to return with him.

Notes From Glenwood

Glenwood ladies began their weekly sale day again by selling sandwiches at school Friday.

The teachers and pupils observed Arbor day by putting on a "clean up" campaign and planting flowers. There was an interesting game of basketball Tuesday afternoon between Willard and Glenwood, the score was 25 to 13 in favor of Glenwood.

Miss Brooks is to take her team to Willard for another game Tuesday.

The 5th, 6th, 7th and 8th grades have been assembling for a "sing song" on Wednesday of each week, and they are very enjoyable and profitable occasions.

The ladies have purchased a slide for the little folks and are expecting it right soon.

Another shoe shop in Ada, Flick and Tarwater have opened up a shoe shop in the old Walke Hotel Bldg., 102 South Stockton. Shoes to trade or sell; also repairing done. Give us a call. 3-18-31d

May Vokes was talking about one of her early appearances in New York, last night. "Gee!" she said, "I shall never forget a write-up one of the papers gave me."

"Because it was so good?" we asked. "Oh, no," she replied. "Because I had such a hard time to find it. I didn't know it was in the paper until about half a dozen of my friends called me up and told me about it, and even then I couldn't locate it although I searched that old paper ragged."

"Why couldn't you find it?" "Because," said Miss Vokes with a grin, "the darned thing had a two column head on it. I thought it was a patent medicine ad."—Bide Dudley in New York Evening World.
